If you do not get a full text link to your article while searching in a database, it could be that:

1. There is no full text available from the publisher or free resource
2. The UMDNJ University Libraries do not have an electronic subscription to the journal in which the article appears
3. There is a problem accessing full-text from the Findit @ UMDNJ menu. Try the UMDNJ Libraries Catalog to see if the Library subscribes to the title in paper format. The catalog will also show links for an electronic copy. If the UMDNJ Libraries Catalog shows that the title is available electronically, but there was no  link in the database, please report this to library staff.
