

Women in Research:

Event Hosted by:

New Jersey Medical School's

Research Office
&
Faculty Mentoring
Program

Falling Off the Academic Bandwagon

Tuesday, March 31st, 2009
12 noon - 2pm

Rosemary Gellene Room
185 S. Orange, Avenue
Medical Science Building
B-515

Dr. Joan P. Schwartz is the Assistant Director, Office of Intramural Research, Office of the Director, at the National Institutes of Health.

Dr. Schwartz has a long history of working on critical issues encountered by women scientists. Her career has included:

- Office of Intramural Research (OIR) Representative to Women Scientist Advisors Committee, 1994—present
- National Research Council Committee on Women in Science and Engineering—Governmental Liaison Committee
- Chairing the Second Task Force on Status of Intramural Women Scientists from 2003 to 2007
- Active membership in the Working Group on Women in Biomedical Careers, since 2007

Come join us to learn more about careers in research.

For more information contact:

Letitia Dean, MPA
Program Administrator
Office of Research and
Sponsored Programs
New Jersey Medical School
185 S. Orange Avenue
MSB, C-690
Newark, New Jersey
973-972-0283
deanle@umdnj.edu