

Anita Chopra, M.D.

Dr. Anita Chopra is Professor and Director of the Center for Aging at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, School of Osteopathic Medicine. She has a Certificate of Added Qualifications in Geriatrics and is a fellow of the American Geriatric Society. Dr. Chopra is Director of the New Jersey Geriatric Education Center and Co-Director of the Geriatric Medicine, Dentistry and Psychiatry fellowship program. As a geriatric educator and clinician, Dr. Chopra is involved in teaching medical students, housestaff, fellows, dentists, nurses and other health professionals. Dr. Chopra is President of New Jersey Medical Directors' Association. She also serves on the Board of Directors for the Alzheimer's Association Delaware Valley Chapter, Senior Citizens United Community Services, Promise Alternative Day Care Center, and New Jersey Geriatric Society. Dr. Chopra has a special interest in Alzheimer's Disease and related disorders and pain management and has served as Principal Investigator on a number of clinical drug trials. She has also been recognized as one of the areas "Top Docs" in Philadelphia Magazine and South Jersey Magazine.